An ingenious American in London has discovered the interesting fact that all watches are compasses. If the hand indicating the hour be pointed toward the sun, the south will be found half-way between the hour and the figure XII. For example, at eight o'clock, point the hour hand to the sun, and due south will be found in the direction of the figure X. It is said that Stanley did not know this, and was much interested in a fact which might prove of great service to an explorer.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. For sale by DR. R. H. HOLLIDAY, Druggist, Clinton, and Dr. J. R. SMITH, Mount Olive, N. C.

Manners are shadows of virtues, the momentary display of those qualities which our fellow-creatures love and respect. If we strive to become then what we strive to appear, manners may often be rendered useful guides to the performance of our duties.

A Safe Investment

Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised Druggist a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of Throat, Lungs or Chest, such as Consumption, Inflammation of Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, etc., etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe, and can always be depended upon. Trial bottles free at DR. R. H. HOLLIDAY'S Drugstore, Clinton, and Dr. J. R. SMITH, Druggist, Mt. Olive, N. C.

SPIRITED GIRLS.—A man who has been travelling in the "far West" says—but he probably misrepresents the matter—that when an Idaho girl is kissed she indignantly exclaims, "Now put that right back where you took it from!"

You are in a Bad Fix

But we will cure you if you will pay us. Our message is to the weak, nervous and debilitated, who, by early evil habits, or later indiscretions, have trifled away their vigor of body, mind and manhood, and suffer all those effects which lead to premature decay, consumption or insanity. If this means you, send for and read our BOOK OF LIFE, written by the greatest Specialist of the day, and sent (sealed) for 6 cents in stamps. Address Dr. Parker's Medical and Surgical Institute, 151 North Spruce St., Nashville, Tenn.

CONSUMPTION SURELY CURED.

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully,

T. A. SLOCUM, M. C.,

CLEAR CUT ISSUES.

Not in fifty years has there been a campaign in which the great issues, which concern the welfare of the people, have been so clearly defined, universally discussed and generally understood as in the fight which has just resulted in a people's victory; and right here it should be remembered that formerly in "off years," the fights have, and that have been made almost entirely on personal or local grounds. But what of the issues in the "on year" or Presidential fights? In every campaign but one since the war the two great parties have tried to prevent offending the monopolists and money powers generally, and at the same time to stick in a clause in their platform to catch the vote of the farming and laboring man. They were afraid to take a stand, afraid to discuss issues. The party leaders on both sides were striving for the same thing—to get office and patronage, and the interest of the people were little thought of after their votes were captured. So since the platforms of both sides were simply bids for votes they read very much alike and neither meant anything. For instance read the following:

We favor a tariff which, yielding a revenue adequate to support the government economically administered, will fully compensate for all differences between the cost of manufacturing in this and foreign countries, including the cost of labor; and we demand that the present tariff be reformed so that the duties upon imported goods shall bear less heavily upon articles which laboring men men are compelled to buy than upon luxuries, and that, as far as practicable, raw materials for manufacturing be put upon the free list.

It is one of the planks in the ——— platform in the campaign of ——. We leave the name of the party and the date blank on purpose, to let our readers guess if they can to which party it belongs. The corresponding plank in the platform of the other party is almost precisely the same in substance and words.

Cleveland becomes President. His eyes are opened. He sees the corruption of the government, how the people are daily bled to create millionaires. One eye sees the monstrous injustice of the tariff tax, the other the corrupt and theiving monetary system. He is ashamed of a party that will sit still and wink at such robbery and oppression. He decides to sound the bugle note of alarm and to make a ten strike fer the liberty of his people. The party leaders beseige him and say hush, it will never do! We can't trust the people, and if we fight the money men we are kicked from power. The honest Cleveland yields. They make him shut one eye and half close the other. Wall street and the National banks are left in their glory and 47 per cent tariff is to be lowered only a pittance. The other side takes advantage of the weakening—they promise the money powers and the manufacturers everything. Thus a half hearted fight on the part of Democracy is beaten by Republican boodle. What has become of the people? They are still bleeding, bleeding. BLEEDING to poverty, and there is no hand to stop the knife or physician to heal the wounds. Do the people sit still in hopeless despair? No! They arouse themselves, organize and put their heads together to investigate the cause of the trouble. They see it. They set forth and define the issues on which a campaign for honest government should be fought. These issues were the true principles of Democracy, but principles which the party leaders and time servers had for half a century been afraid to advocate. Yes, it has been a campaign of clear cut issues, for the people are now running their own party in the interest of the people.

CHANGES NEEDED IN THE ORGANIC LAW.

We boastfully speak of this Government as being of, by, and for the people, and of this country as being controlled by the majority of its voters. In both we are, to a great extent mistaken. Here are the facts, let us carefully consider them, for sooner or later the time will come when this very condition of affairs will endanger the very existence of this republic. On the 4th day of November, 1890, an unprecedented majority of the voters rendered a most emphatic verdict against the Republican Congress and administration, by electing more than two-thirds of the House of Representatives. In monarchical Great Britain such an election would have compelled an immediate and entire change of administration, with the exception of the Queen, who is after all but an expensive and almost powerless figure head for that government. What is the result here? Practically nothing, so far as the policy of this Government is concerned. The newly elected House will not meet until the first Monday in December, 1891, more than a year hence, unless called together in extraordinary session by the President before that date. And when it does meet it cannot dot an "i" or cross a "t" in any law upon our statute books without obtaining the consent of the President and a majority of the Senate, powers, which, notwithstanding the rebuke of the people, still exist to thwart the will of a majority of the country's voters. The House of Representatives of the Fifty-Second Congress although more than two-thirds Democratic, can do little more than furnish the country the evidence of the good intentions of the Democratic party, for even should there be Republican Senators enough who vote with the Democrats to modify or repeal the obnoxious and unpopular McKinley tariff law, which is extremely doubtful, the Republican President, whose term lasts exactly as long as that of the Fifty-Second Congress, would be certain to veto all such measures. It will require another victory in 1892 to enable the people to realize the fruits of the one just won over the Republican party. This will never be a real Government, of, by and for the people, until such changes have been made as will enable the response to the popular will, on the part of the governing powers, both executive and legislative, to be immediate.

NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Blaine Looming up for Defeat in 1892.

[Regular Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18, '90.

Mr. Benjamin Harrison is no longer "in it." His chances of a renomidation, if he ever had any, have been knocked into smithereens, and the wily Secretary of State is again thr autocrat of the badly shaken up and demoralized Republican party. This is doubly fortunate for the country, because, in the first place, if there is no reaction, the adeice of Mr. Blaine will prevent the Senates passing the Force bill at the coming session of Congress, and in the next place, because if Mr. Blaine be the nominee of the Republican in 1892 he is certain to be defeated. For these reasons the Democratic leaders are pleased with the change which has come over their opponents.

CUMBERLAND NEWS.

HEAVY COTTON RECEIPTS—THE FAIR LAST WEEK—THE CAROLINA MACHINE WORKS—FINE PLAYS AT THE OPERA.

Col. Sutton for Speaker of the House—The Sampson Victory.

(Special Correspondence.)

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.,
November 12th, '90.

The Cumberland Fair last week had weather "to tackle," but was a success "all the same." The weather Tuesday and Wednesday was good, and the attendance large for those days. Thursday and Friday, however, it was abominably bad weather. It rained and kept at it. The crowd on Thursday was quite large. The exhibition was the best in the history of the society, and this was the 29th annual fair. The city was full of visitors and they enjoyed themselves. Many young lady visitors are still here.

The cotton receipts in Fayetteville since September 15 are 13,500 bales. This is 8,500 more bales than was received at this date last year. The price paid at Goldsboro and Raleigh last week was 8⅞ to 8¾, while in Fayetteville the buyer readily paid 9 cents. Our exceptional freight rates, on account of water competition and the many factories which get their supply of the staple from here enable the buyers to pay higher prices than the other inland markets.

The Rose Osborne Company played two nights last week at the Opera House, in "Satan" and "Forget Me Not." The Hi Henry Minstrels also gave two performances, and captivated the people with the best minstrel show ever here. In fact you scribe has never seen as good, even in New York and Washington. The Opera House was packed, and many people had to stand both nights. The seating capacity of the house is one thousand.

Little Lord Fauntleroy will be presented at the Opera House on Wednesday night. The box sheets shows that all the reserved seats will be taken two days before, as everybody nearly is anxious to see this celebrated play.

The Fayetteville Choral Association was organized recently with fifty-five membership will soon reach 150 of the best people in the city. Monthly entertainments will be given.

The Independent Company has organized a band with eighteen pieces. Among the instruments is four clarionets. Mess. Novitzky, Reinsberg, Sheetz and others are among the leaders. It will be one of the best in North Carolina.

The North Carolina Machine Works were chartered recently, and the building are rapidly going up. Mr. W. H. Russell, of the Shocko Machine Works, of New Hampshire, is the largest stockholder. Machinery for wood will be manufactured, and all kinds of machinery repaired. The capital stock is $20,000. This is an important addition to the industries of the city.

Col Thos. H. Sutton was elected to the Legislature by 1,855 majority, and Mr. McGill by 1,825. they made excellent representatives before, and now go back for their third term. Col. Sutton is a candidate for Speaker of the House, and the signs point to his election. His eminent abilities and valuable experience in matters of legislation entitle him to the position. He was a leader in the House two years ago, and made a capital reputation, and a record so good that our people gave him a majority 1,200 larger than that of two years ago. He is a people's man, and letters are coming to him from representatives elect from all parts of the State, pledging him their hearty support for the Speakership. Old Cumberland expects Sampson and adjoining counties to support him.

The First Baptist Church of this city will celebrate its 53rd anniversary on the 26th inst., the exercises to continue three days. Among the men of note who will be here are Revs. Drs. Pritchard. C. Durham, F. W. Eason, W. B. Cobb and many others. It will be an interesting occasion. This congregation has recently built a new parsonage, repaired the church and raised the pastor's salary to $1,200.

A new Methodist church is being built in the southern part of the city. It will be known as "Rose's" Chapel, in honor of the late "Uncle" Beverly Rose. This makes three Methodist churches in the city.

Mr. Fleet R. Cooper was here last week attending the Superior Court. He is just as genial and clever as ever, and has succeeded as a lawyer, his services being called into requisition in many important cases.

Editor Butler accept our congratulations on your election to the Senate over such strong and desperate opposition. Your election was one of the most important victories in the State. Go to the Senate and work for the interests of the people, as you have so unselfishly done in the past, and your people will give you the plaudit, "well done, good and faithful servant." Sampson will have cause to be proud of her representatives in the General Assembly.

Dozens of new dwellings are in course of erection, and the style of them are modern. Many of them are costly.

MR. CLAY'S TARIFF IDEAS.

An Extract from His Tariff Debate with Mr. Calhoun—Senator Carlisle on the Same Platform—Direct Taxation the Result of Production of all we Consume.

Albertson, N. C., Nov. 12.

Your refrence, in your issue of the 5th instant, to "20 per cent." as being "Mr. Clay's idea of a tariff," induces me to call your attention to what Mr. Clay said about "protection" in his debate with Mr. Colhoun in 1838, while the compromise tariff was nearing its minimum of 20 per centum:

"No one, Mr. President, in the commencement of the protective policy, ever supposed that it was to be perpetual. We hoped and believed that temporary protection, extended to our infant manufactures would bring them up and enable them to withstand competition with those of Europe. We thought, as the wise French minister did, who, when urged by a British minister to consent to the equal introduction into the two countries of their respective productions, replied that free trade might be very well for a country whose manufactures had reached perfection, but was not entirely adopted to a country which wished to build up its manufactures. If the protective policy were to entirely cease in 1842 it would have existed twenty-six years from 1816, or eighteen from 1824; quite as long as, at either of those periods, its friends supposed might be necessary."

If Mr. Clay were living now, he would stand just where Beck stood, and where Carlisle now stands—for a tariff for "revenue only."

By the way, if the Protectionists succeed in securing the production in this country of every article needed by the people, direct taxation will become necessary, and then the people will begin to understand the extent of the extravagance and corruption of the Government. So be it, if there is no other redemption! But it will not come to that; the recent election forebodes the downfall of the plutocrats, and we may hope that the great heart of the American people is true to the principles of justice and fraternity. Let us all rejoice!

Yours very truly,
B. F. GRADY.

AN ANCIENT RELICT

That No Longer Succeeds in Drawing Votes.

The Lodge force bill and the Topeka Capital did splendid service in wiping out Republican majorities, and a vote of thanks are due them. If the force bill had passed the Senate, and a newspaper like the Topeka Capital established in every State, the Republican vote would have been too small to count. The war closed a long time ago, hence the old-fashioned bloody shirt campaign of sectional hate fails to draw the votes.—National Economist.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co—Gentlemen:—I have been in in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice, have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,

WOMAN'S SPHERE.

DRESS.

It is every woman's duty, first to herself, second to her family, and third to society to appear neat, attractive and to an advantage in every way possible.

The Change in Woman's Dress.

The elaborately dressed woman, on the street especially, is destined to be a rarity. Flashy styles will be given over to the marked woman who seek for attention—attention so far as criticisms of their own sex and the sneers of the men are concerned. That the time is ripe for a material change in the fashions is conceded by all women of taste and intelligence. Styles have run to the extreme, until only a little distance remained to the point of the exceedingly rediculous. The strain on the purse has been severely felt. Changes, and of a radical nature, became so frequent that even the wealthiest found difficulty in keeping pace with them. The reaction which has set in is both timely and healthy. Women on every hand are welcoming the dawn of the simple in dress, while man will have extended to him the honor he has always esteemed the greatest that could be conferred upon him—to walk the street with a woman in neat, but simple attire.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Woman in Politics.

It is when politics enter upon the personal phase that the woman shines, says a writer in Harper's. If she has a brother, a husband, or a dear friend who is in one or the other party contests, she proceeds with a subtleness, peculiar to her sex, to crown his efforts with success; and if she does not succeed it is not for lack of persistence or adroitness. It is when the women drop their arguments and take to their own peculiar arts that they are powerful and to be feared, if against you and to be worshipped if for you.

FASHION NOTES.

The Princess of Wales has displayed a penchant for brown which is likely to make the color fashionable. This is fortunate, as it is a most becoming color to most women, and can be charmingly blended with gold, soft pink shades and palest blue.

The straight, plain skirt, so becoming to slim figures and so trying to stout ones is not to be worn much longer. There are signs of change; more drapery in the front may be worn by those who do not wish to emphasize every curve of their figures, and a tendency to small paniers on the hips is evident.

The new autumn color is called "bark." It is a rich reddish-tan, exactly the color of the sails on the Venice lagoons with the sun seen through them—neither brown, nor red, nor orange, but a mixture of all three; and a fine, rich, becoming mixture it is, quite suitable to both blondes and brunettes.

There is a revulsion against the very close-fitting tight skirts and while steels and pads are not visible, dresses are made full at the back, with a natural and graceful flow. Some of the newest street dresses are quite plain in front and at the sides, with folds behind, or have fan folds in front, plain sides and folds behind.

IF A GIRL IS BORN

In January, she will be a prudent housewife, given to melancholy, but good tempered.

If in February, a humane and affectionate wife and tender mother.

If in March, a frivolous chatterbox, somewhat given to quarreling.

If in April, inconstant, not very intelligent, but likely to be good looking.

If in May, handsome, amiable, and likely to be happy.

If in June, impetuous, will marry early and be frivolous.

If in July, passably handsome, but with a sulky temper.

If in August, amiable and practical, and likely to marry rich.

If in September, discreet, affable, and much liked.

If in October, pretty and coquettish, and likely to be unhappy.

If in November, liberal, kind, and of a mild disposition.

If in December, well-proportioned, fond of novelty, and extravagant.

THE CAUCASIAN.

Entered according to Postal Laws at Clinton, N. C., as second class mail matter.

CLINTON, N. C. — NOV. 20, 1890.

The next House of the United States Congress will be a deliberative body.

The annual meeting of the Inter-State Immigration Convention will be held this year at Asheville Dec. 17th.

Prof. Kock of Berlin announces that he has discovered a cure for consumption. His treatment is by vaccination.

The republicans are wasting time in trying to locate the Jonah. He is everywhere that an advocate of the new tariff law exists.

The monopolist and speculator now has time to philosophise with the ancient Hans Sacks as follows: A topsy-turvey world, where hares become the hunters.

We have been asked what were the names of the three Republicans in the next Congress from the South. They are J. H. Wilson, 11th Dist Ky.; A. A. Taylor, 1st Dist. Tenn; H. P. Cheatham (col) 2nd Dist. N. C.

Let the democrats of the House elect their ablest and strongest man to be Speaker, and good democrats will not ask or care what state or section he hails from; a weak man in the Speakers chair can do the party irreparable damage.

Gov. Gordon has been elected United States Senator, to succeed Joe Brown. On joint ballot os both houses of the Legislature the vote was a tie between Gordon on the one hand, his several competitors on the other. The presiding officer cast his vote for Gordon.

The speeches at the "Old Roman Banquet," given in honor of Hon. Allen G. Thurman, at Columbus, Ohio, on the 13, inst, represented all that is best in democracy, and are worthy of being preserved in permanent book form for the edification of future generations of democrats.

Sherman Howe, elected to the U. S. House from Massachusetts, is 30 years old. He is a Democratic. Before the war many young men were in the House. Vance was a member before he was 26 years old. Roger A. Pryor had a national reputation by the time he was thirty. He served one term.—Wil. Messenger.

In the course of a speech at Yanceyville, Caswell county, Senator Vance said, regarding the Sub-Treasury bill, that he would risk the constitutionality if the farmers would risk its practicability. This is substantially the same that we reported the Senator as saying, during the recent canvass in this county.

See in another column the letter from Hon. B. F. Grady, our able congressman elect from this district, on Clay's position on the tariff. Mr. Grady quotes from one of Clay's speeches delivered in Congress in 1838 during the great debate with Calhoun The 52nd Congress will have no member better posted than Grady on the great issue of the day.

Men are being mentioned now as Presidential possibilities who will actually be entirely forgotten before 1892. Too much "previouseness" has been the death of more political booms than any single cause. The next nominee, will not be selected because he was born and raised in New York; but because he favors certain measures.

Our neighbor. The Christian Leaflet says: "Will not our Representatives and Senator try to have a law passed by the next legislature forbidding the sale of all intoxicating beverages within two or three miles of any public speaking or gathering of any kind? What say you gentlemen?" If this suggestion were in effect, political campaigns would be much more satisfactory, and do much good in an educational way. Those who have once been on a campaign will readily see the force of this.

"THE VOICE ON THE PEOPLE."

The Courier Journal commenting upon the recent elections says:

The people have spoken. Little is wanting to add emphasis to the expression of their will. The earthquake voice of discontent with the dominant party was followed by the tidal wave which swept away that party's majority in the popular branch of Congress.

The issues of these elections has a significance which reaches far beyond party lines. It is a triumph of popular government.

* * * * *

The lesson of it is very plain and very cheering; sublime in its simplicity, simple in its sublimity. It teaches that there is a reserve force in the people, which fits them to cope with great emergencies, to act with promptness and decision when prompt decision is needed, and to lay a giant's hand upon the helm when the pilot is steering the ship of state upon the rocks. * * * * *

The new tariff law was provocation enough for a popular uprising, but there was something more. Behind the giant Spoliation stalked the sinister spectre of Force.

Yes, the people have spoken and in words plain enough and terms loud enough to leave no doubt to the next Congress as to its duty.

For some time the National Democrat of Washington has been criticising the Alliance, saying that its demands were undemocratic and that it would split the Democratic party. In last issue it admits that the Alliance did the work in the election. We clip the following from its leading editorial:—

The election of last week was emphatically the work of the people, and not of the politicians. The Democratic leaders anticipated such a victory as little as the Republicans feared it. No party leaders could possibly plan for such a victory, or organize it. Such a majority as the Republicans won two years ago—three—is a mere accident. A majority of 25 might be the result of sagacious management, but a majority of 150 in the House means an uprising of the people all over the country.

A great many editors are wasting a lot of valuable space in speculating about who will be the next Democratic nominee for President. They all come to about the same conclusion, namely that he must come from New York, and that the choice must be between Cleveland and Hill. In view of the recent elections it is a poor political prophet who can't see further now than before. In the next National convention a hetherto unrepresented element will be strongly represented; a man must be nominated who is right on the money question as well as the tariff. A man whom the farming and laboring people everywhere, especially in the great west, will support.

"WHO IS COL. POLK?"

Col. Polk has been twice to Kansas on a lecturing tour. Each time the partisan press, including some of the Democratic papers (we are sorry to say) with all the Republican papers sent up a howling protest and a tirade of abuse upon Polk and the Alliance. One of their pet questions was 'who is Col. Polk anyhow"? The result of the election has answered this question as follows: Col. Polk is the man who has beaten Ingalls, saved Kansas and whelled her into line for honest government.

WHO DID THE WORK IN PENNSYLVANIA.

A reporter interviwed Senator Quay, the Republican campaign boodler, upon the causes of the recent election. His loconic reply was, 'he are beatten because the other side got the most votes." "But" continued the reporter, "where did they get them"? His reply was, "It looks as if the organized farming and laboring people did the work for us."

FIVE CAUSES.

If interviews be true the Republican leaders are engaged in a great search for the causes of Tuesday's revolution. They should not be hard to find, and we think that they will discover them in the following five constituent elements of the Republican party:

The McKinley Tariff, The Force bill, The Pension Enormity, The Burlesque Census, Utter Worthlessness.—Courier Journal.

Alliance Department.

ALLIANCE NOTES, DISCUSSIONS AND THE DOINGS OF THE VARIOUS LODGES.

Public Lecture at Kerr.

Mr. Marion Butler, the Lecturer of the Sampson County Farmers' Alliance, will deliver a public lecture at Kerr Station on Thursday night, November 20th. Everybody is invited out to hear the principles of the order discussed.

Public Lecture at Royal's Chapel.

There will be a public lecture at Royal's Chapel, under the auspices of Progress Alliance, on Saturday, December 6th, at 2 o'clock, by Mr. Marion Butler, the County Lecturer. The public is cordially invited.

STATE AGENCY.

State Business Agent W. H. Worth, in answer to an inquiry as to the amount of business done by the agency so far this year, says: "We did a business amounting to $324,700. We expect to double it during the coming twelve months. We supply the Sub-Alliances with hundreds of things. The fertilizer business is a great feature. We also procure much improved agricultural machinery. All these things are furnished at special prices.

FARMERS, SOUTH AND WEST.

The Farmers' Advocate, the official paper of the Farmers' Alliance of Kansas, after commenting upon the great victory just won has the following to say of the future political outlook; "We shall at once commence to marshal the hosts of the people for the conflict of 1892. In this great work there are many prejudices to be overcome. Sectional lines must be abolished. Interests which are identical must be brought together and the combined forces of the agricultural and laboring classes must be consolidated against the forces of corporations, monopolies, trusts, syndicates and moneyed aristocrats, who have for years feasted upon the substance of the people. The coming contest will not take place between the Northern and Southern sections of our country. The interests of the people of the West and the South are identical and their political forces must be consolidated against the powers of corporate greed. It has been and is a holy mission of the Farmers' Alliance to subdue the sectional prejudice which has been kept up by professional politicians in the interest of monopoly. It is full tim for this nation to become united.

In 1888 Kansas gave Harrison a majority of 89,159 the banner Republican State of the union. The seven congressmen were all Republicans. The Legislature stood 160 Republicans, 4 Democrats, and 1 Labor. Wonderful to state, in two short years all this is undone, the State is Democratic. Five of the congressmen are Democrats and only 2 Republicans. The Legislature stands Democrats 103, Republican 62. This is not a temporary sentiment, but a change of conviction and a change come to stay. The campaign was fought for more money and cheaper money, and a reduction of the tariff tax.

Hon. G. W. Sanderlin in a speech before the Baptist convention at Shelby last week, advocating the education of young ministers said:

"Consider the worth of an immortal soul. To win souls is wisdom. Unskilled labor has done great things. Yet education makes our ministry more effective. In it all magnify the work of the Holy Spirit in the uneducated or the educated. Happy the man who is blessed an education. There is a craving in the hearts of young men and we aid the cause in a wending, increasing future."

A blind editor died a few days ago in Kansas. But there are a good many blind editors still living. They can't see a defeat in the Republican lay out on the 4th inst.—Wil. Star. And there are some more blind editors and politicans to who can't see that the Alliance did it.

If Your House is on Fire

You put water on the burning timbers, not on the smoke. And if you have catarrh you should attack the disease in the blood, not in your nose. Remove the impure cause, and the local effect subsides. To do this, take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, which radically and permanently cures catarrh. It also strengthens the nerves. Be sure to get only Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Costly War Implements.

Tens of thousands of pounds of capital have to be sunk ere a single 111 ton gun can be manufactured. A particular reason for its being costly to make is that its production consumes a great amount of time. To build such a gun takes as long as to build a first class cruiser. Yet another reason lies in the fact that there are many and inevitable failures, which entail great waste of labor, if not of material.

The 111 ton guns, without their mountings, cannot be produced or sold to the government for much less than £15,000 apiece, the 67 ton guns for less than about £10,800 or the 45 ton guns for less than £6,300, and the expense of firing these guns, apart from the wear and tear of the weapons, mountings and ships, may be judged from the amount of powder and the weight of projectile used. In the case of the 111 ton gun the full powder charge is 960 pounds of slow burning cocoa or 850 pounds of Westphalian brown prism, and the projectile weighs 1,800 pounds.

In the case of the 67 ton gun the full powder charge of slow burning cocoa is 630 pounds, while the projectile is of 1,250 pounds weight. In the case of the 45 ton gun the full charge of brown prismatic powder is 295 pounds, and the projectile weighs 714 pounds. The estimated cost of one round from the largest gun is about £80, from the second about £50 and from the smallest about £30; but this is the cost of powder, cartridge and projectile only.—London Tit-Bits.

A Singular Dental Operation.

Anson Washburn, the 14-year-old son of Austin Washburn, of the Bee line, sat in Dr. J. B. Morrison's office reading a paper and fanning himself unconcernedly. He has passed through one of the most remarkable operations known in dental surgery. When he was about 5 years of age he had an attack of scarlet fever that caused the retention of four teeth on the right side of the upper jaw. Dr. Morrison made an exploration and found the teeth and drew two of them down. One of them did not require much attention, except careful watching.

When exploring for the eye tooth he found it between the hard palate and the floor of the nose, pointing toward the left jaw. The tooth was imbedded in a sack of pus, and the most careful treatment was needed in removing the pus and to prevent it from aggravating the cut parts and causing blood poison. The tooth and its bony attachments were cut loose, carefully cleaned of all foreign substances and placed in their proper position. The central incisor was kept out of the boy's mouth for two and a half hours. The teeth that were changed about are growing nicely, and young Washburn said that he is suffering no pain, no inflammation has set in and his teeth are in good condition. He was thoroughly under the influence of ether during the operation. The operation is out of the ordinary.—Indianapolis News.

Perfumes.

Sweet odors for the bath and the toilet are of three kinds—the floral, the aromad and the balsamic. The first includes those derived from sweet smelling flowers and plants, the second those derived from musks and resins, the third those derived from leaves and gums. The otto, or essential oil, of perfumes is obtained in three several ways—distillation, maceration and enfleurage.—New York Ledger.

A Millionaire's Small Wages.

"How much do you make a day, my lad?" asked ex-Commissioner O. B. Potter of the newsboy from whom he was waiting to receive change.

"About fifty cents," the boy answered.

"That's just twice as much as I could earn when I was 13 years old," said the millionaire. "I might have been a rich man now if I had only had the start that you are getting."—New York Times.

In the Way.

Engineer—That drug store has got to be moved back from the railroad track.

Director—What's the matter with it?

Engineer—I forgot about it's being there last night, and when I saw that red light in the window I thought it was a danger signal, and I stayed here for one blessed hour before I remembered.—Harper's Bazar.

In Paris.

Mme. Prudhom—What is this Tariff Bill in America we read so much about now in France?

Mr. Prudhom (with superiority)—Madam, I am surprised! It is of course the kinsman of Buffalo Bill, whom we lately saw among us with so much pleasure.—Epoch.

The Dear Girls.

Maud—Col. Soanso is a very polite man.

Ethel—What makes you say so?

Maud—When he saw you and your sister Clara at the ball last night he said "Which is the younger?" instead of "Which is the elder?" as other men do. —Epoch.

Semi-Respectable.

Friend—Why don't you give up this business for something that is semi-respectable?

Bunco Man—I'm going to. I intend to study law as soon as I get a little money laid by.—New York Ledger.

He Was Cruel.

She (thinking of ante-matrimonial days)—What does this coffee remind you of?

He (tasting it critically)—It reminds me of coffee, but that is all.—West Shore.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional and not a local disease, and therefore it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, working through the blood, eradicates the impurity which causes and promotes the disease, and effects a permanent cure. Thousands of people testify to the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh when other preparations had failed.

Catarrh

"I will say I have been troubled for several years with that terribly disagreeable disease, catarrh. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla with the very best results. It cured me of that continual dropping in my throat, and stuffed up feeling. It has also helped my mother, who has taken it for run down state of health and kidney trouble." Mrs. S. D. Heath, Putnam, Conn.

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh with very satisfactory results. I have received more permanent benefit from it than from any other remedy I have ever tried." M. E. Read, of A. Read & Son, Wauseon, O.

—Mr. E. C. Beddingfield, Secretary of the State Farmers' Alliance, is expected to speak on next Friday at the Sampson Fair. The peerless Vance is expected to speak on Thursday.

—Cards are out announcing the marring of Miss Minnie White, daughter of Mr. O. P. White, to Mr. P. H. Williams, Tuesday, November 25th, at the residence of the bride.

—Col. Polk writes regretting that the meeting of the National Alliance, during the first week in December, will prevent him from accepting the invitation to attend the Sampson Fair.

—I will state that in our premium list three plows were offered by Smith & Yelverton. It is a mistake, and the one offered for sow and pigs will be erased, as they only gave two plows. J. A. OATES, Sec't'y.

—Gov. Fowle writes that the law requires him to be present when the Board of State Canvassers meet in Raleigh to count the vote, and that since that day conflicts with the meeting of the Fair that he will be unable to attend.

—A premium was awarded to Mrs. Dr. A. P. Dixon at Red Springs' Fair for having the finest looking half dozen boys on the grounds. Wonder who would get such a premium at the Sampson Fair next week?

—Some of our subscribers have not yet settled. Allow us to remind you again that we need the money. I am determined to run a first-class paper and you wish me to do so; but it takes money. You must assist me by paying up promptly.

—Mr. French McQueen asks us to say that there seems to be an impression with some persons that he will buy no more cotton, but that it is untre. That he is still in the market and will be as long as the season lasts, paying the topmost prices.

—On Tuesday of last week Rev. O. P. Meeks moved his family from Warsaw to Clinton. They occupy the neat residence which he has just completed on DeVane street. At night the members of his congregation gave him a generous pounding. We welcome him and his family to our midst.

—The Sampson Light Infantry was on annual inspection and dress parade on Saturday evening. Col. Cameron, the Inspector General, complimented the company very highly. To pass a 75 per cent inspection is all that is necessary. Our company graded up to 95 per cent. Capt. Johnson says that he is proud of his company. The boys are certainly proud of their captain.

—Next Thursday is Thanksgiving Day. The bank will be closed on that day. Fifteen of the leading business houses have agreed to close until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. There will be no cotton bought on that that day, and we would advise our readers not to bring any to sell on Friday, as everything will be in such a rush on account of the Fair that it will be difficult to get attention.

—Two Sampson horses won the premiums at the Cumberland Fair last week. "Bob Lee" the Stallion owned by Mr. F. T. Atkins took two premiums, one for being the finest 3 year old stallion on exhibition, and one race. "Cleveland" the stallion owned by Mr. Beatty Matthis took the first premium in one trotting race and the second premium in another. At the Goldsboro fair a few weeks since Mr. Lovett Lee's horse took the premium as the fastest racer. Sampson has more fine horses now than for many years.

—The plaining mills of Messrs. Stewart, Hines & Co., are now beoperated at full capacity. Two plaining machines are run, two dry kilns, with a capacity of 50,000 feet lumber are kept full all the time. Two saw mills are kept at work to supply the mills, and much lumber is bought from outside mills. A very complete and valuable machine has just been added. It is a two saw trimmer, a self feeder with an elevator attached for removing lumber. This is an enterprise that Clinton may well be proud of and we are sorry that more of our young men do not give their native county the benefit of their enterprise instead of moving elsewhere.

A Man Shot.

On last Saturday night at nine o'clock, Mr. Miles Jackson, one of Mr. J. H. Royal's salesmen, was shot through the neck. The bullet came from a 32 calibre revolver in the hand of one W. H. Bender, of New River. It was accidental, but came near being fatal. In short it was a hair-breadth escape. The bullet struck the throat just under the chin, passed to the right side, just missing the large artery, and lodged in the fleshy part of the back of the neck. The ball was probed for by the doctors but has not yet been removed. Mr. Bender was in town with a load of fish from the Sound. He went into the store of Mr. J. H. Royal Saturday morning to purchase a pistol. Mr. Southerland, one of the clerks, showed him a revolver. He did not purchase, but said he would call again that evening and take it if the clerk would throw in a round of cartridges. Whereupon Mr. Southerland loaded the revolver and laid it aside. In the evening Mr. Bender came in for the revolver. No clerk was near, so he stepped behind the counter and picked it up and began to examine it again. Mr. Miles Jackson started down to that end of the store to wait on the man. When in a few feet of him the pistol fired. It was a double action and neither one knew it was loaded.

Mr. Jackson is doing well, and will probably be up again in a week or so.

Clinton Literary Club.

The young people of this section are expecting to see a large crowd of both ladies and gentlemen at Newton Grove next Saturday.

Misses Mary Monk and Clyde Benton are visiting friends and relatives in Wilmington.

The people of this section are making big preparations for the big dinner to be given at Newton Grove on Saturday, the 22nd. All Democrats from everywhere are invited to come.

Quite a number of our young people had the pleasure of attending the S. S. Conference at Black's Chapel last week. WE.

NORTH CLINTON.

Mr. Editor, I very rarely see in your columns any statement from North Clinton. Why, sir, we have some good farms in this section and some good farming, also some very slack twisted. You hear very many say that "farming don't pay," but I will give you a few instances. One young man, Mr. Thos. Clute, run a two-horse crop this year with two ordinary mules and made forty-six bales of cotton and seventy-five barrels of corn, plenty of meat, &c. Mr. Clute is one of the rare cases. He works as few others do, and this shows what work will accomplish. That is getting to be the great trouble, not enough work done and too much money spent extravagantly. This year has been an extraordinary good crop seasons, and everybody seems to have beat his past record, Diversify the crop, less cotton. Cane syrup is profitable. One man in this section made 117½ gallons from sixtenth of an acre. Ground peas is a good crop if you put lime on the land. Get back farmers to raising your meat and not have your smoke houses in Chicago. I understand that one farmer in this section offers 10,000 pounds of pork, as also corn, to sell, besides his crop of cotton. Why can't you all go to work and do like this man and Mr. Clute? You can if you will. So let us turn over a new leaf, go to work instead of running to Clinton every few days, and I think we will see a change for the better. Well, I am getting too lengthy.

POOR FARMER.

How to Sprout Dollars.

Advertising pays. The results may not be seen immediately, nor in exactly the way expected, but if continued and persisted in it will tell. An article to be sold must be made known. That which is the most persistently and extensively advertised becomes the quickest and most widely known. That which has the most merit receives the most enduring benefit. Advertising is frequently like Longfellow's "Arrow and Song":

I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to the earth, I know not where;
For, so swiftly it flew, the sight
Could not follow it in its flight.

I breathed a song into the air,
It fell to earth, I know not where;
For who has sight so keen and strong,
That it can follow the flight of song?

Long, long afterward, in an oak
I found the arrow, still unbroke;
And the song, from beginning to end,
I found again in the heart of a friend.

And so when the proclamation of one's wares is made it falls to earth, one knows not where; but the chances are that the notes will be heard by some one who will heed them, and prove seed to sprout dollars for the advertiser.—Harry J. Shellman, in the Journalist.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles!

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents.

THE FAIR.

Farmers Should Attend—What They Gain By It.

The following clipped from the American Farmer and credited to the Western Swineherd, ought to be interesting to our farmer friends:

The farmer from the very nature of his occupation loses many of the opportunities for observation that are enjoyed by men of most other callings. His immediate surroundings occupy most of his time and attention and his days for recreation and mingling broadly with his fellow-men are few and far between. He should, therefore, when opportunity offers for comparison of his own labor with that of others in the same business take advantage of it. The fairs offer an object lesson worthy of his study. He finds at them an assemblage of the best products of his fellow laborers. He can there judge by comparison as to his own status in his business. If he finds that others are outdoing him he is stimulated to greater effort. He is led to inquire how certain results are attained; to seek information that cannot fail to be of advantage to him when he returns to his rounds of toil. His wife, who should accompany him; also finds strong competition in her line of duties and learns secrets valuable to her in the kitchen, dairy and parlor. Time spent at the fair will be well spent, be it one day or more. The ideas will be brightened up by contact with others. The spirit of emulation will be aroused, and you will go home feeling that what others can accomplish is also in your power. What you see at the fairs will give you new zest for your calling, and you will go back to the daily routine of labor with a cheerfulness and determination not measurable in the dollars and cents by which profits are sordidly reckoned. Go to the exhibition with note book and pencil and jot down the items of information that you think will prove of especial benefit to you. Exhibitors are, as a rule, very willing to discus methods by which they have achieved success, and the items you can thus glean will recompense you twice over for time and expense to say nothing of the enjoyment you will gain from your outing. Yes, go to the fairs by all means, even if something must be left undone at home which you feel ought to be done. Let the greater advantage have precedence over the lesser.

IT SAVED MY LIFE.

After suffering for twelve years from contageous Blood Poison, and trying the best physicians attainable and all the patent medicines procurable, and steadily continuing to grow worse, I gave up all hopes of recovery, and the physicians pronounced the case incurable. Hoping again at hope I tried S. S. S. I improved from the first bottle, and after taking twelve was cured, sound and well, and for two years have had no return or symptom of the vile disease. As I owe my life to S. S. S. I send this testimony for publication. H. M. REGISTER,

Not One in Ten

Of the people you meet from day to day has perfectly pure, healthy blood. The hereditary scrofulous taint afflicts the large majority of people, while many others acquire diseases from impure air, improper food and wrong indulgences. Hence the imperative necessity for a reliable blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which eradicates every impurity, and gives to the blood vitality and health. It cures scrofula, rheum, humors, boils, pimples, and all other affections caused by impurities or poisonous germs in the blood. All that is asked for Hood's Sarsaparilla is that it be given a fair trial.

THE GOING QUEEN STEAMER

A Fanciful View of Transatlantic Travel of the Future.

She will be over a quarter of a mile in length, and will do the passage from Sandy Hook to Liverpool in 36 hours, leaving one night out. She will be driven by electricity, and in such a fashion as to keep rail-way time despite storm or tempest says the Pall Mall Gazette.

Passage can be secured by flash photo—Edison's patent—and the ticket will include an opera stall or a concert ticket or a seat in a church pew, the opera house, concert hall, and church being all on board. A covered ring for horse exercise will be provided, and a racing track for fast trotters. A baseball ground and tennis court will also form a portion of the attractions.

For business men a stock exchange will be operated, the quotations being posted from the tickers every two minutes, on the vibration system. The leading papers of all countries will be reprinted each morning by the electric reflection system.

A spacious conservatory, containing the choicest flowers of all climates, will afford an agreeable lounging place, and bouquets will be provided gratis.

As at Monaco and Monte Carlo, a suit of apartments will be laid out for play, to be kept open all night—a sumptuous supper with the costliest wines free. Expert tailors and shoemakers will be in attendance, and clothes will be made and finished during the passage.

The millinery department will contain the French fashions of the previous day, and costumes will be ordered while the ship is en route, and delivered complete on arrival at dock. Accommodations will be furnished for 10,000 passengers.

Life Among Hudson Bay Indians.

No tent was carried, even in the coldest weather, and it was often 40 degrees below, with snow five feet deep. A hole was dug down in the snow with a snow shoe, which makes an excellent snow shovel. Some poles were then slanted over the hole, thrust into the snow on the sides; against the poles boughs were piled and the loose snow was heaped over these. A warm hut was thus made, at the bottom of which the fire was made. We usually put the dogs back of us in the hut, and that kept us warmer. We always carried an extra dog along to replace any that might be crippled in one of the numerous fights they were always having. The log houses of that country had floors made of puncheons and the hinges on the doors were made of rawhide. The logs were usually of spruce and the chinking was of moss and mud. The chimney was built inside of a frame of four poles. A hay rope, covered thick with mud, was wound round and round and the chimney built in this way. It dried very hard and made a good chimney. We had no brick and very little iron.

The Indians of that country lived through the winter in bark tepees, with little clothing beyond a blanket, breech clout, and leggins. I have seen Indian children playing in the snow barefooted and barelegged, and they seemed happy, and with the thermometer 40 degrees below zero. The squaws carried their babies in a sort of bark packing basket, with a hoop across the face to save the baby's nose in case of trouble. They packed the baby in it with three or four inches of moss around its blanket, and once in it was liable to stay in for three or four days. The Indian women were usually short and uncomely, but among the half breeds there were some fine looking women. Morality was undreamed of, and marriage practically not known. Men would trade or sell wives for some such consideration as a steel trap, and that was all the divorce there was to it. The women seemed just as well pleased, and, indeed, all that sort of thing was viewed in a happy go lucky light, so that it was easy to get a squaw for a paddler or wood chopper on any long journey, pretty much regardless of her age or previous condition of servitude. These squaws used to make a peculiar sort of blanket, very warm. They cut rabbit skins into long strips and then wove them together, just as one would bottom a cane seat chair. This made a fur fabric two or three inches thick, but it was not very pleasant on account of the shedding of the hair.—[Forest and Stream.

Cotton Manufacturing Outlook.

The present outlook is that the cotton crop will be the largest ever grown in this country, estimates putting the total at from 7,500,000 to 8,000,000 bales. For the past five years the cotton crop has steadily increased in size, the total five years ago being 6,505,000 bales, or more than 1,000,000 bales below the one to be gathered. The total value of the crop for the past five years, including cotton seed, foots up the immense sum of $1,500,000,000, while conservative estimates predict that the present crop will be worth fully $500,000,000. Reports from the cotton growing States say that the crop shows splendid yield and condition, and also that the farmers are freer from debt than at any time for 25 years. This will tend to prevent any depression in the market from pressure to realize, and there is now no reason apparent why the estimated valuation of the crop should not be fully realized.

The Influence of Telegraph on Diction.

Somewhere I read long ago that the ever growing practice of telegraphing was undermining the grammar and the literature of America. Though I believe that the literature of America, especially of the United States, is but just begun—barring, of course, some notable instances in the earlier history of our country, I candidly confess that in the very nature of the brevity of the telegrams there is something which tells against pure diction and sound grammar. I was in receipt only last week of a letter from a well known editorial writer on a New York newspaper. The language of telegraphy was as easily discerned as though the epistle had been written on a Western Union blank. "Yours received," "will write again," "am not sure of phraseology," "Huxley mentions same," are some of the expressions this well trained writer allowed to slip from his pen.—[Jewish Tidings.

MOUNT OLIVE DEPARTMENT.

LOCAL ITEMS:

Our happiest citizen is Dr. J. A. F.; "because it's a boy."

Miss Annie Kennedy, of Goldsboro; made a short visit here last Sunday.

The Fourth Quarterly Meeting was held in the Methodist Church Monday.

Your subscription is due. If you have not settled please call and do so immediately.

Mrs. Lou Hawkins (nee Futrel,) of Wilmington, is here on a visit to her mother and family.

Who will be the next preacher? is the important inquiry among the Methodist of our town.

Miss Mary Hicks is visiting relatives in Kenansville. She expects to visit Clinton before her return home.

We once knew a young man who would sing 'I Need Thee Every Hour," every time he called on his best girl.

Rev. Mr. Abernethy's horse was right badly snagged by trying to jump the pailings last Saturday.

Protracted services commenced in the Baptist Church Monday night. Services will be held nightly through the week.

Have you settled your subscription? When you come to Mt. Olive call at H. W. McKinne's and get a receipt for the present year.

We presume everybody has a favorite song. The "favorite" one of our young men is "Go Tell (Aunt) Patsy." Can you guess what he wants to tell her?

Miss Anna Stallings, of High Point, who came here a few days ago on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. L. F. Oates, has taken charge of a school near Smith Chapel Church.

This is a great county for 'possums. One citizen told us that his boys had caught 184 this fall, but when we "pinned him up" he said they had "treed" that many times.

Rev. W. S. Roan, Presiding Elder, arrived Saturday and preached two excellent sermons Sunday, and one Monday in the Methodist Church. Mrs. Roan and the little ones were here also.

According to limitation this is Rev. J. T. Abernethy's last year as pastor of the Mt. Olive circuit. His four years have been pleasantly and profitably spent here. His spiritual labors have been blessed with a good harvest; over 160 having joined the church during the last quarter.

That Little Tickling

In your throat, which makes you cough once in a while and keeps you constantly clearing your throat, arises from catarrh, and as catarrh is a constitutional disease the ordinary cough medicines all fail to hit the spot. What you need is a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Many people who have taken the medicine for scrofula, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and other troubles, have been surprised that it should cure this troublesome cough. But to know the actual cause of the cough is to solve the mystery. Many cases of consumption can be traced back to the neglect of some such slight affection as this. Consumption can be controlled in its early stages, and the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in purifying the blood, building up the general health, and expelling the scrofulous taint which is the cause of catarrh and consumption, has restored to perfect health many persons on whom this dreaded disease seemed to have a firm hold.

THE MAMMOTH

DRY: GOODS ESTABLISHMENT

Of The Old North State.

—:0:—

We have everything in readiness now to meet all requirements in the Dry Goods trade. The immense increase in our business demanded larger purchases, and we have met the emergency, and now take pleasure in assuring you that we exhibit the most perfect and complete array of dry goods of every description ever shown in North Carolina. It is our earnest desire that you thoroughly convince yourself of the fact, either by a personal examination or through the medium of samples. Of course a personal examination would be perferable, but in case it is inconvenient for you to visit our store, our Sample Order Department will take charge of your requests and promptly give them the best attention. We will mention a few lines of goods in this announcement, and later on substitute others. It is a difficult matter to give a satisfactory decription of goods in an advertisement, but we can at any rate convey a hint or two. Now in about all we can say is that the assortment is simply perfect, and we have no hesitancy in saying that it is the most complete in the State. Among them we show you Faille Gros Frain, Rhadama, Armure, Satin Luxor, Satin Duchess, Fancy Brocades and Satin Stripes.

At 80c, 95c, $1.10, $1.25, $1.48, and $1.75 per yard. We have placed on sale the largest and handsomest line of it has ever been our pleasure to exhibit. Now is the time to make your selections of

CARPETS.

All the styles are in, and they are beauties. We are of the opinion that we have secured some of the best picks and think we can substantiate it by comparison. Every variety is represented in this Department ranging in price from 18c to $2.00 per yard. A large lot of these goods have been selected specially for Churches, Halls and Offices. We give special terms to churches, and it will be to their interest to correspond with us if in need of any kind of floor coverings. Of course under this head is included which we show in all styles and in abundance.

We approach a subject now in which ladies take considerable interest, and it is very necessary that we should do so likewise. We have given more care and attention to this branch of our business this season than ever before, and are now satisfied that we can please the most exacting. We allude to

DRESS GOODS!

A few styles and prices just here will not be amiss but will fail to convey any adequate description of the stock.
